

TR BROWNJOHN MEMORIAL HOME FUNERAL INFORMATION STANDARD

The information below meets the requirements as per the NSW Fair Trading Act of 2019.

Pricing is of February 1, 2021

Every Memorial Ceremony at The TR Brownjohn Memorial Home is completely unique and reflects both the family's and friends' vision as to how best honour their loved one. As a result, no two Memorial Ceremonies will be priced exactly the same. Tom Brownjohn, the principal, or his representative, will be happy to discuss the cost of any individual element. If the individual pricing element is not clear to you or differs from the pricing shown in another website, please don't hesitate to ask.

T.R. Brownjohn's single objective is to deliver a service that respects the client's personal choice having regard for their diversity of beliefs in religious and cultural practices. Therefore, we provide a range of options which can be tailored to fit everyone's unique personality.

T.R. Brownjohn Memorial Home is a family owned business serving the local and surrounding communities, a fully accredited member of the Australian Funeral Directors Association (AFDA) which has a strict requirement that all members maintain in all matters the highest level of professional and ethical standards.

Please be advised that every Memorial Ceremony will contain third party charges which are mandatory and not flexible. These are often called "disbursements." Every client will be provided with a written estimate of charges and we encourage you to speak directly to us if you have any questions.

You have the right as a consumer for information regarding services and costs. T.R. Brownjohn has a responsibility to provide this information.

As Tom says... it's time we had a talk
